ISOME QUESTIONS
FOR YOU,
thinking about the different forms of scaling-up imaginable....

1) What is the nature of your scaling-up process? (a network, an inter-institutional collaboration, an inter-scalar project among different level of government)?

2) Is it mainly about mutual learning on separate experiences, or do different entities involved collaborate in a comparative project on national or international scale?

3) Does it provide some form of qualitative and quantitative monitoring of the project results?

4) Is it looking outside your country and how?

5) what is the role of technologies in keeping alive your experience and eventually its inter-scalar relations?

6) is the experience working in the direction of creating participatory systems, which include PB and put it in dialogue with other tools?

Thanks a lot for your patience!
